

Gloucestershire Echo, 'Where I Live '

SHURDINGTON Saturday 10th April 2010

- The Multiple Sclerosis Therapy Centre would like to thank everyone who helped, donated and spent money at their Jumble Sale which was held on Saturday 28th March in the Shurdington Social Centre. They raised £460 which will go towards helping people with Multiple Sclerosis. For more information about the MS centre please ring 01452 419246.
- Plant Heritage NCCPG is holding a meeting at the century Hall today 10th April at 2pm. Alun and Jill Whitehead will be giving an illustrated talk on Irises for the natural Garden. Visitors are welcome. Their annual plant sale will this year be held at Eastcombe Village Hall on Sunday and Monday 2nd and 3rd May from 2pm to 6pm. Again everyone is welcome. Today's meeting of NCCPG will be the last until August.
- The Alan Pilbeam lectures held in the Chapel were well attended and very interesting judging by what I heard last week. The organising committee would like to thank the Social Centre committee for the loan of 50 chairs for the event, and also this column for spreading news of the lectures.
- Sunday 25th April sees the annual St George's Day Parade in Pittville Park for our Cheltenham District Scouts. All members of Shurdington Scouts are reminder that they are expected to attend. More details later but the parade meets at 1.45pm at Central Cross Drive. A letter will be handed to all members when we reconvene.
- The Parish Assembly is due to take place in the Century Hall on Tuesday 27th April for a 7.30pm start. Please be seated well before the start.
- Spread all over the media is the news that general elections take place on Thursday 6th May; these will be held as usual in the Century Hall.
- The April issue of 3 in 1 is now out in circulation. As usual it make riveting reading, is full of interesting facts and also the occasional giggle. Dates for your diaries and local advertising make up the rest of the publication. Really well done on an excellent booklet.
- Any news you wish to spread about events and dates for the future please do let me know both for this column and the village website.
