

Gloucestershire Echo, 'Where I Live '

SHURDINGTON Saturday 28th November 2009

- Despite the heavy intermittent rain, the MS Fayre which took place last Saturday 21st November in the Century Hall was quite a success. They raised some £680 and sincere thanks both to the people who organised and helped at the event, and also those kind people who braved the weather and opened their wallets and handbags. I was also pleased to see two of our Scouts, Alex West and William Kurtz helping at a stall and raising some £15 selling items their families contributed. Alex and William are working for the Community award. Well done both.
- Leckhampton Surgery held their swine flu session in the Millennium hall last Saturday and hundreds of people were called in to receive their jabs from 9am to noon. I have never seen so many cars coming in and out of the car park. There will be other sessions on 10th and 17th December in the afternoon in the Century Hall, but these are by invitation only. Appointments will have been issued.
- On Tuesday the 1st December the NHS PCT nurse will be attending the Century hall from 10am for the morning, for anyone who wishes to drop in and ask for help with anything they may need.
- Have you booked a place at the Race Night in the Century Hall? This is being held on 5th December by Pre-school as a fund raising event. Please give them all the support you can. More details on our website, and tickets from anyone at Preschool.
- Another reminder for any residents who bought King George's Field raffle tickets, to get the stubs and cash to any councillor by 14 December because the draw will take place on the 18 December; and good luck!
- The last session of Mature Movers for this term, which is held in the Century Hall Thursday mornings, will be on 10th December. Dates for the New Year will be published as soon as to hand.
- On 11th December our Cub Scouts will be holding their 3-day Christmas camp at Cranham Scouting Centre.
- On Saturday 12th December from 9am to noon you will be able to feast your eyes, and hopefully empty your wallets, at the St Paul's Church Christmas Bazaar. More details from Kate Thompson.
